

Lam Soon (Thailand) Public Company Limited

Halal Food Quality Policy

“Committed to manufacture standardized quality products that clean and safe for consumers according to laws and Islamic provisions”

In order to achieve the national halal standard policy, the company will proceed as follows:

1. Manufacture quality food products and comply with Islamic provisions.
2. Comply with laws, rules and regulations of the Central Islamic Council of Thailand related to product safety.
3. Ensure that employees continually receive trainings, skills, experiences and qualifications to have sufficient ability to control the company’s Halal products manufacturing.
4. Continuously monitor, audit, evaluate and improve efficiency of Halal food quality system.

Halal food policy is published to the involved employees at all levels within organization in order to inform, make understanding to employees as well as encourage to realize their responsibilities, implement and maintain it to obtain the corporate Halal food products.
